OBJECTIVE OF THE CONFERENCE

English language and literature have become increasingly important in today's globalized world, serving as essential tools for communication, education, and cultural understanding. This international conference aims to bring together educators, researchers, and practitioners from diverse backgrounds to share best practices, explore innovative approaches, and address the evolving challenges in teaching English language and literature. English language and literature play a critical role in today's globalized world, fostering communication, understanding, and cultural exchange. In this context, effective teaching methodologies are crucial to equip learners with the necessary skills and knowledge to navigate the complexities of the language and engage with diverse literary traditions. The International Conference on Teaching English Language and Literature (ICTELL) aims to bring together educators, researchers, policymakers, and stakeholders from around the world to share best practices, explore innovative approaches, and address emerging challenges in the field. English language and literature play a crucial role in today's interconnected world, serving as a bridge for communication, cultural understanding, and intellectual exploration. This international conference aims to bring together educators, researchers, policymakers, and practitioners from diverse backgrounds to share knowledge, exchange best practices, and explore innovative approaches in teaching English language and literature.

In an era characterized by rapid technological advancements, the fields of English language teaching and literature have undergone transformative shifts. English language teaching and literature have undergone significant transformations in recent years. The digital age has brought forth new opportunities and challenges, reshaping the landscape of language education and literary studies. This conference aims to explore the emerging trends, innovative practices, and theoretical perspectives shaping English language teaching and literature. The conference will serve as a platform for interdisciplinary dialogue, knowledge exchange, and professional development in the rapidly evolving field of English language education and literary studies. Exploring the role of digital literacy in language acquisition and communication; analyzing the impact of digitalization on literary studies, and exploring new modes of textual analysis, storytelling, the dissemination of literary works are envisaged to be the chief objectives. We look forward to welcoming you to this stimulating and enriching academic event.

PREFACE

Welcome to the International e-conference on Emerging Trends in Teaching English Language and Literature! We are thrilled to bring together educators, researchers, and stakeholders from around the world to explore the dynamic landscape of this ever-evolving field. The 21st century presents both challenges and opportunities for English language and literature education. Technological advancements, globalization, and the diverse needs of learners necessitate a continuous exploration of innovative approaches and methodologies. This e-conference serves as a platform to delve into these emerging trends, fostering a collaborative exchange of ideas and inspiring transformative practices. Language and Literature Teaching, underscores the crucial role of educators in adapting to the changing landscape and embracing innovative strategies. Throughout the conference, we will explore various sub-themes, including harnessing technology, promoting learner-centered approaches, fostering intercultural understanding, integrating new literacies, and reimagining assessment.

We believe that by fostering dialogue, sharing best practices, and exploring cutting-edge approaches, we can collectively empower educators to navigate the evolving landscape and create enriching learning experiences for all students. This e-conference provides a unique opportunity to engage in stimulating discussions, learn from leading experts, and connect with a global community of passionate educators. We encourage you to actively participate in the sessions, engage in thought-provoking discussions, and share your valuable insights. We are confident that this e-conference will equip you with the knowledge, skills, and inspiration to embrace innovation and make a positive impact on your students' learning journeys.

This conference serves as a nexus for scholars, educators, linguists, writers, and enthusiasts from around the world to come together and engage in dialogue, debate, and discovery. Over the course of the next few days, we will delve into a myriad of themes and topics, ranging from the intersections of language and identity to the role of literature in promoting social justice, from innovative approaches to language teaching to the evolving landscape of digital humanities.

As we embark on this intellectual journey, let us remain open-minded, curious, and receptive to new ideas, perspectives, and insights. Let us embrace the diversity of voices and experiences that enrich our understanding of English language and literature. And let us forge connections, collaborations, and friendships that transcend geographical boundaries and foster a global community of scholars and enthusiasts united by a shared passion for the English language and its literary treasures. Together, let us celebrate the power of words to inspire, to challenge, and to transform lives. Welcome to the International Conference on English Language and Literature. May our deliberations be fruitful, our discussions enlightening, and our journey together truly memorable.

Thank you.

ABSTRACT

The Department of English, CSTS Government Kalasala, Jangareddigudem, Eluru District, AP, conducted a one-day International Conference in English in hybrid mode in the College on 21.03.2024. The theme of the Conference is “Enriching Minds: Latest Trends in English Literature and English Language Teaching in the Digital Era”. The conference was conducted from 9.30 am to 5.00pm.

The inaugural of the conference was held at 9.45 am. Dr. K. Vijay Babu, Officer on Special Duty, O/o the Commissionerate of Collegiate Education, AP, Mangaligiri, was the Chief Guest. Dr. N. Prasad Babu, Principal of the College, Presided over the occasion. The Principal in his address thanked the AP CCE authorities for sanctioning permission to organize this international conference in a hybrid mode. In particular, he extended deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Pola Bhaskar, IAS, the Commissioner of Collegiate Education, for according permission to avail OD to all those Lecturers from GDCs in the state of Andhra Pradesh, who are attending the conference in the offline mode in the College. He observed that they have invited the Resource Persons from the USA and Fiji Island and also professors from KL University, Guntur and Trichy as the Technical Chairs. He expressed confidence that that conference would come out with constructive and fruitful deliberations on the latest trends emerging in the fields of English literature and ELT as well. He remarked that this conference is aimed at bringing learnt faculty, professors and research scholars on to one platform and discuss the latest trends in the above fields, which will ultimately benefit the student community at large. While addressing gathering, Dr. Vijay Babu observed that such kind of conferences as this are the need of the hour as they are aimed at enriching the communication skills among the stake holders. He commended the Principal, staff, and the Department of English of the College for organizing such conference. Dr. K. Pankaj Kumar, Professor of English, YVNR Government College, Kaikaluru, Eluru District, delivered the keynote address. RELEASE OF THE JOURNAL DURING THE CONFERENCE

About the College

Chatrapati Sivaji Tri Satajyanthi (C S T S) Government Kalasala, situated at Jangareddigudem, in Eluru district in the state of Andhra Pradesh. CSTS Government Kalasala, a co-educational college, was established by the Bapiraju Dharmasastalu by the Gandhian ideologue and freedom fighter, late Shri Ch. V. P. Murthy Raju Garu in 1974. The College houses all the modern amenities within a spacious campus, well-equipped laboratories and sprawling playfields. There are separate hostels for both the men and women students. Students from far-off places like Bhadrachalam on the Northern end and also from Polavaram on the Eastern end. The College is located strategically in such a town as Jangareddigudem which is well connected by road to Vijayawada, Eluru, Rajahmundry, Khammam, Bhadrachalam and other places. The College is affiliated to Adikavi Nannaya University, Rajamahendravaram. The college offers several undergraduate courses like B A (Special English, History, Economics, Political Science), B Com (General), and B Sc (Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry/ Mathematics, Physics, Computer Science).

About the Department:
The Department of English, CSTS Government Kalasala, situated at Jangareddigudem, in West Godavari district, came into existence with the inception of the college in the year 1974. There are two sanctioned English Lecturer posts in the department. At present two regular Lecturers who were selected by the APPSC and appointed by the CCE, have been working. The Department of English also offers Special English Course at U G level. The Department of English as part of UG College intends to impart quality-based teaching and learning to make the rural students acquaint the life skills and soft skills. The department also imparts the communications skills to the students to enable them to get equipped with the employability skills among the students and to prepare them for the professional needs in the globalized scenario prevalent contemporarily. It takes upon itself the mission of exerting with zeal and enthusiasm to impart the four basic skills of Listening, Speaking, Reading and Writing, known as the LSRW. The department strives to sustain and promote the intellectual inquiry and cultural literacy and manners through teaching English and to motivate the students towards the research in English language and literature. It also tries to facilitate an opportunity for the first-generation learners to get a basic understanding of the technical aspects of English language and prepare them for either higher studies or self-employment.

No literary event embodies and exemplifies the argument for reader-response theory than does Salman Rushdie's Satanic Verses.

Rushdie became a victim of the postmodern condition, where meaning is wrest from the hands of the author and put in the minds of a warring group of readers.

This then is the classic example of readers making meaning for themselves.

Exceptionalism has usually been associated with America.

Donald E. Pease writes in The New American Exceptionalism (2009)

- American exceptionalism is the name of the much-coveted form of nationality that provided U.S. citizens with a representative form of self recognition across the history of the cold war. As a discourse, American exceptionalism includes a complex assemblage of theological and secular assumptions out of which Americans have developed the lasting belief in America as the fulfillment of the national ideal to which other nations aspire.
- Donald E. Pease, The New American Exceptionalism (Minneapolis, Minnesota: University of Minnesota Press, 2009), 7.

PANEL TALK BY Dr. HARDEEPSINH R. GOHIL, AHMEMADABAD, GUJARAT

The screenshot shows a Google Drive interface with a video player. The video is titled "Ramayana for Slovika.pptx". The main slide displayed is titled "Ramayana As An Eco-Centric Epic" and is attributed to "Dr. Capt. Hardeepsinh R. Gohil". The slide features a decorative floral border on the right side. Below the title, the text reads "The Evolution of the Epic". A small video thumbnail of the speaker, Capt. Dr. Har., is visible in the bottom right corner of the video player. The video progress bar shows 2:12:44 / 3:21:25. The system tray at the bottom indicates a temperature of 39°C and the date 15-04-2024.

The screenshot shows a Google Drive interface with a video player. The video is titled "Gmail". The main slide displayed contains a Sanskrit sloka: "O Nishada (hunter), because you killed one of the Kraunca couple who was engaged in love, may you never obtain peace." Below the sloka, the text explains: "I have just pronounced something that is sequenced in Eight by Eight letters and it has Four equal repetitions making it a thirty two letters poetic recital." He explained himself, unbelievably, Rishi Bharadwaj was too stupefied to say anything. The slide concludes: "Apart from everything this sloka becomes first Sloka - the poetical verse in any language." A small video thumbnail of the speaker, Capt. Dr. Hardeepsinh Ranjitsinh Gohil, is visible in the bottom right corner of the video player. The video progress bar shows 2:22:50. The system tray at the bottom indicates a temperature of 39°C and the date 15-04-2024.

Challenges and Future Direction

Current Issues and Trends

1. English as a Lingua Franca: The increasing use of English as a global language poses challenges for traditional ELT methods and requires a focus on intercultural communication.
2. Digital Literacy: The integration of technology in ELT brings opportunities and challenges, requiring teachers to adapt their pedagogical approaches.
3. Inclusivity and Diversity: ELT needs to promote cultural sensitivity and inclusivity, addressing the needs of learners from diverse backgrounds.

Future Direction

1. Personalized Learning: The future of ELT lies in personalized learning approaches that cater to individual learner needs and preferences.
2. Blended Learning: The combination of face-to-face and online learning will continue to shape the future of ELT, providing flexibility and access to resources.
3. Lifelong Learning: ELT should extend beyond the classroom and support learners in their lifelong language learning journey.
