Analysis Report for Student Feedback, 2022-23

The majority of students rated the efforts to cover the syllabus positively. However, there is a notable percentage (20%) who found the coverage only average or below. A significant majority acknowledged clarity in teaching expression. However, a smaller group found room for improvement. The majority of students found the use of teaching aids satisfactory, but there is a need for improvement in employing advanced teaching models. While a significant number of students recognized the incorporation of latest developments, a notable percentage rated it average. A majority appreciated the variety of teaching methods employed, but a considerable number rated it average. A significant number of students recognized efforts in arranging external learning experiences, but there is room for enhancement.
